iDocket Emerges from Chapter 11 Restructuring, Securing Future Growth with Focus on Innovation

Amarillo, Texas – May 21, 2024 – iDocket.com, LLC, a leading provider of local government software and public access services, today announced its successful emergence from Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection. The company filed for Chapter 11 in October 2023 to restructure its finances and ensure a path for long-term stability and continued innovation.

“This is a momentous day for iDocket,” said Amelia Balderrama, CEO of iDocket.com, LLC. “Through this strategic restructuring, we have secured the resources needed to further develop best-in-class technology and expand our reach, empowering local governments to better serve their communities.”

Bolstering Innovation with Tech Expertise

iDocket announced the appointment of Younis Zargar as its new Chief Technology Officer as a continued sign of commitment to its turn around. Mr. Zargar brings a wealth of experience in leading software development teams and creating innovative solutions for the legal and government sectors. His expertise has proven to be instrumental in driving iDocket’s product roadmap and ensuring the company remains at the forefront of local government technology.

“I’m excited about the future of iDocket and the great work we have been able to accomplish in the last two years I have been with the team,” said Younis Zargar. “The company has a proven track record of success, and I look forward to continuing to develop next-generation solutions that empower local governments to deliver exceptional service to their citizens with the talented team at iDocket.”

Committed to Client Success

iDocket’s emergence from Chapter 11 positions the company for continued growth and a steadfast commitment to client success. We remain dedicated to providing our valued government partners with the most reliable and efficient software solutions for managing critical government functions, all while prioritizing superior customer experience. We understand the ever-changing budgetary landscape counties face, and that's why we offer solutions that deliver exceptional value.

This positions iDocket as a partner that understands its clients' needs and delivers cost-effective solutions as it moves forward.
